The Division of Student Affairs exists to help students with every aspect of their lives at UC Berkeley. We build, shape, and enhance student experiences, and propel students to achieve their individual visions of success. From empowering them to take charge of their physical, mental, intellectual, and fiscal wellness, to supporting them as they learn to find and amplify their voices, we challenge students to transform tomorrow into the world they envision today.

On behalf of our staff and students, thank you for your continued support of this important endeavor.
Letter from the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

On behalf of the Division of Student Affairs, I am pleased to present our 2022 Impact Report. This report is designed to share important data points that describe the work in which we have been engaged as the largest division on campus. More importantly, my hope is that it will paint a lively picture of how we serve our various constituency groups by embodying our mission that “builds, shapes, and enhances student experiences at Berkeley and propels students to achieve their visions of success.”

We have so many successes and achievements to celebrate this year. A few highlights include:

- We received 147,599 admissions applications for freshmen and transfer students, our largest number ever.
- Our Student Engagement and Diversity fundraising team raised $335,841, a 59% increase in total dollars raised from FY21 and they are still going strong.
- The Public Service Center and Student Environmental Resource Center (SERC) collaborated with Berkeley Social Welfare to establish the inaugural class of College Corps Fellows as part of the #CaliforniansForAll College Corps.
- Various units within our division collaborated with each other and with other campus entities to help our campus, and more importantly our students, continue to recover from the impacts of the global pandemic.
- We launched a 12-session Enhancing Diversity Equity Inclusion Belonging and Justice (DEIBJ) Fluency Series specifically designed for Student Affairs, and have 61 Senior Leaders (executives and their direct reports with management and strategic oversight) participating to date.
- Various units within our division collaborated with each other and with other campus entities to help our campus, and more importantly our students, continue to recover from the impacts of the global pandemic.
- We launched a 12-session Enhancing Diversity Equity Inclusion Belonging and Justice (DEIBJ) Fluency Series specifically designed for Student Affairs, and have 61 Senior Leaders (executives and their direct reports with management and strategic oversight) participating to date.

While we continue to manage day-to-day needs and challenges, we are also planning for the future. Our strategic plan provides the structure and roadmap for a renewed commitment to achieving our collective vision and mission. This effort will now enter the second year of implementation, and I am eager to see the strides we make as we work together to improve the student and divisional staff experience. As we continue to emerge from the impacts of the pandemic, we need the types of rejuvenation and creative thought that this planning process provides. The five priority areas include:

- Redefining the Student Experience
- Culture of Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging
- Financial Stability
- Health, Justice and Holistic Well-Being
- Organizational Behavior and Development

We have a committed, dynamic, and creative team in the Division of Student Affairs. I am grateful for their tireless efforts in providing every student a remarkable co-curricular experience. The report is a testimony to their collective work.

Student Development Theory

A primary tool that guides the work of student affairs professionals is student development theory. Student development theory is a group of theories that help us design and implement programs that create conditions under which students can grow and mature. These theories give us insight into the complexity of students’ lives, as they explore their identities and discover how they wish to fit into the world. This collection of constantly evolving theories helps explain how students think, the behaviors they display, the way they cognitively address the dissonance that arises in college, and the elements that influence their intersection of emerging identities.

Student development theory also helps to explain how the person interacts with their environment, resulting in behaviors that enable them to navigate their world. As students become authors of their lives, student development theories help guide student affairs staff to provide the necessary balance between challenge and support for successful navigation of the college experience. We draw on these theories to inform our work as we create conditions that promote student success.

College campuses have changed as a result of the pandemic, like the rest of our world. We can draw on student development theory to help us respond to these emerging changes. One such theory that informs this change is Kurt Lewin’s (1936) behavioral theory. This theory says that individual behavior is a function of both the person and the environment ($B = f(P, E)$). As student affairs professionals, we need to consider the context and culture of our environment in order to create effective strategies and programs that facilitate the development of our students. Student development theory provides us with a range of diverse tools and perspectives to create the best communities that we can.

Illuminating the Path Forward

We will remember this academic year as one heavily steeped in transition. We’ve assisted a once-nearly empty campus with reopening, restarted services, and watched as our beloved university came alive and thrived again. We’ve learned many lessons along the way, several best practices in service of our students, and are finally seeing a clearer path forward to co-existing with COVID-19.

There is much to be grateful for as we navigate our new normal, including reuniting our Student Affairs family and making it through the most challenging times. Despite pandemic setbacks, we have not only persevered as an organization but are progressing in the implementation of the division’s strategic plan priorities: redefining the student experience; creating a culture of equity, inclusion, and belonging; advancing financial stability; fostering health justice and holistic well-being; and promoting organizational behavior and development.

We’ve created a hazing response strategy to effectively respond to campus climate incidents and a division-wide report concerning workforce demographics. We’ve established a partnership with the ASUC Student Union and Cal Dining on three new restaurant concepts in the MLK Jr. Building and have begun analyzing our resources to improve access to care. We are also beginning to tackle our Student Life Master Plan, which will set the stage for a more integrated approach for students navigating our services.

In addition, we have done important work to support the Chancellor’s strategic initiatives. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions’ holistic review process has led to some of the most diverse classes we have ever seen at Berkeley. By comparison to Fall 2021, Fall 2022 saw a 27% increase in new undergraduate Black students, a 46% increase in new undergraduate Latinx students, and a 17% increase in new undergraduate Native American students.

New student housing continues to be critical to our growth and success, as we brought on 149 additional beds in January 2022 with the opening of Intersection Apartments. We also remain excited about the prospect of breaking ground on the long-awaited People’s Park Housing Project in the coming months, which will bring more than 1,100 new beds for first-year students, as well as Anchor House and Albany Village, which will bring more than 1,500 new beds combined.

It’s time to take pride and reflect on how far we’ve come and what we aspire to be as a division moving forward. It’s with sincere gratitude that we share this year’s report with you.
Prioritizing the Student Life Master Plan

In July 2022, we embarked on a new initiative, the Student Life Master Plan, to enhance the student experience on campus. Considered a subset of the campus’ long-range development plan, the goal of the plan is to be more intentional in how we use our physical space to make it easier to service our students, especially with the desire for more remote options. While our strategic plan focuses on a collective vision for the programs and services we see for the next 4-5 years, the Student Life Master Plan focuses primarily on physical spaces needed for the next 10+ years.

This plan, which is currently in the discovery phase, will take into account the following considerations:

- Exploring how our student services space and student space are integrated throughout the campus, with the possibility of creating dedicated or standalone buildings.
- Identifying services or resources that would be advantageous to have adjacent to Student Affairs services (i.e., equity & inclusion, health services, a makerspace, or library facilities).
- Consolidating spaces that would improve the student experience and/or Student Affairs operations.
- Planning for growth in space for student services and student communities.
- Preparing for how and when we renovate, rebuild, and create new spaces that meet the emerging needs of our changing student body.
- Taking the strategic steps that enable the planning recommendations we have outlined with available capital resources.

We will partner with Capital Strategies, Equity & Inclusion, and Undergraduate Education on this plan’s initial discovery, analysis, and documentation phase.

Implementation of the Strategic Plan

As we pivot from the work we plan to do to the work we have currently underway, this year we began our implementation phase of the strategic plan. We are excited to see our collective hard work be put into action. We began the process by identifying first-year initiatives from within our five strategic priorities (see graphic). Once identified, these initiatives were championed by their Priority Leaders and Initiative Owners, who have enlisted working group members from throughout the division. Today we celebrate the notable progress we have made, and express our commitment towards realizing our future plans.

Redefining the Student Experience
By Sunny Lee (she/her), Associate Vice Chancellor & Dean of Students, and Alfred Day (he/him), Interim Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student Engagement & Support

Our first strategic priority aims to create a positive and equitable experience for students during their time on campus to ensure the Berkeley we promote reflects their lived experiences. As part of our first-year initiatives work, we have:

- Created a hazing response strategy and continue to develop a framework for bias prevention and response to effectively respond to campus climate incidents and consider preventative measures by enhancing education.
- Created the foundation for a student advisory board that addresses the equity conversations from the undergraduate and graduate student perspectives.
- Continued to develop a hybrid model (remote and in-person) of engagement and support for the Dean of Students portfolio to be potentially applied more broadly to student support services.
- Partnered with Graduate Division to create resources and opportunities to enhance graduate student life.

90% of first years feel like their transition to UC Berkeley was smooth
89% of transfer students feel like their transition to UC Berkeley was smooth
28% of enrolled student families in the Early Childhood Education Program receive subsidized tuition 88% of first years feel like they have a group of peers they are connected to

Culture of Equity, Inclusion & Belonging
By Bahar Navab (she/her), Assistant Vice Chancellor and Chief of Staff and Layla Naranjo (she/her), Interim Executive Director of Administration

Our second strategic priority focuses on advancing Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, & Belonging (DEIB), enhancing the student and staff experience, ensuring equitable practices, fostering belonging, and ensuring all members of our community can show up as their authentic selves. As part of our first-year initiatives work, we have:

- Developed an accountability mechanism to track divisional actions for multiple undergraduate diversity initiatives, including the Hispanic-Serving Institution (HSI) Initiative, the African American Initiative, and others. These initiatives came out of the campus’ Undergraduate Student Diversity Project, which launched at the end of 2018 and speaks to the student experience from pre-admission to campus climate.
- Followed up on recommendations from the 2018-19 classification and compensation review process, and developed comprehensive recommendations for identifying and addressing pay inequities and maintaining future pay equity.
- Identified barriers to access to opportunities that result from structural design. Developed recommendations for equitable access to information and participation in divisional classes, presentations, professional development opportunities, and staff engagement events to ensure more inclusive participation.
- Designed a curriculum to enhance the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, Belonging, and Justice (DEIBJ) fluency of Student Affairs senior leaders. The 12-session series launched in May 2022.

Financial Stability
By Kate Jordan Steiner (she/her), Chief Financial Officer, and Cruz Grimaldo (she/her/hers, they/them), Associate Vice Chancellor Financial Aid & Scholarships

Our third strategic priority is aligning our priorities with our values of fiscal accountability, transparency, and stability. As part of our first-year initiatives work, we:

- Diversified and expanded non-housing revenue streams, with an emphasis on raising scholarship funds for students and divisional infrastructure.
- Reviewed the divisional funding model, piloted review of division services and staffing through the finance group, leveraged bulk purchasing power between departments and UC campuses, combined and renegotiated existing contracts, used space more efficiently, leveraged centralized offices, and reduced the number of funds and expenses.
- Collaborated with Campus Procurement to identify cost-saving measures and licensing opportunities.
- Identified new financial opportunities, such as the Cal Dining and ASUC Student Union restaurant partnership, to promote campus use of divisional resources.
- Advocated for additional resources from the campus and other stakeholders; clearly communicated division-funding needs and tradeoffs to campus leadership; and promoted sustainable funding models for student support and services, infrastructure, operations and maintenance, and workforce.

Organizational Behavior and Development

Last but certainly not least, our fifth strategic priority aspires to create an inclusive culture through fostering trust, transparent decision-making, recognizing value, and building innovative processes and systems. As part of our first-year initiatives work, we have:

- Identified challenges for managers and staff in balancing on-site, hybrid, and remote work.
- Evaluated alternative communication systems that would allow staff to opt in to communications that are of interest and/or relevant to provide easier access to information, consistent messaging, and community building for all staff no matter where they work in Student Affairs.
- Analyzed Student Affairs workforce demographics data at the divisional level to assess for disparities. Developed recommendations and identified areas for further study to mitigate structural barriers and equity gaps.
The Student Affairs Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging Staff Advisory Board

The charge of the Student Affairs Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging Staff Advisory Board is to serve as an advisory body to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs and their leadership teams on the holistic staff experience from a diversity, equity, inclusion, belonging, and justice (DEIBJ) framework.

PURPOSE

The advisory board serves as a thought partner, providing input and guidance, elevating the various staff experiences, identifying needs, gaps, and opportunities, articulating staff impact, drafting recommendations, and identifying potential stakeholders. The advisory board meets with the Vice Chancellor on a monthly basis.

The advisory board navigates through a diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging framework to examine the complete life cycle of divisional employees and systems, processes, and structures that staff interact with directly and indirectly. Some examples of areas include community and belonging, divisional communications and messages, and staff development and learning.

This past year, in particular with more staff returning to work in-person, the advisory board served as a connector to and partner with the Vice Chancellor to gain a better insight on the campus climate impacting staff and student experiences. Members elevated not only challenges inside and outside the workplace, but also successful transitions and an increase of community amongst teams. Collectively, we proposed equitable and solution-oriented strategies to support staff and align to the Student Affairs Strategic Plan.

Along with serving as advisory board to topics at hand, a subgroup of the advisory board members worked together and submitted a funding proposal geared towards “Becoming An Anti-Racist Campus (BAAC)”. The goal is to design a curriculum that reaches across all segments of our division and is proposing a combination of workshops and professional development tools. These workshops include cross-cultural communication, building resilience and liberation through policy and administrative processes, workplace practices for equity and inclusion, and specific workshops geared towards non-English speaking staff (Mandarin, Cantonese, and Spanish) aimed at addressing microaggressions and university resources for staff advocacy.

Advisory Board Members

Diversity, equity, inclusion, belonging, and justice work is deeply personal and rooted in historical and systemic impact on our social and salient identities. We thank our advisory board members for their time, energy, and contributions thus far.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
This past year, the IHO built on prior recruitment and training successes and aimed to efficiently administer formal hearings. The IHO expanded the online training offered through bCourses to meet the unique needs of the Committee of Student Conduct. Community volunteers in the hybrid environment to prepare them for the increasing complexity of student conduct matters in challenging times. The IHO also partnered with the CSC to provide live training instruction.

OUTCOMES
The IHO engages with the broader campus community through recruitment, training, and management of the Committee on Student Conduct to promote community accountability for students in the formal hearing process. The IHO works to ensure that the formal hearing process is applied equitably to students navigating it.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
The IHO utilizes the reporting feature in the campus’s case management database and an internal case tracking system to pull data related to the Committee on Student Conduct.

WHAT WE DO
The Independent Hearing Officer (IHO) is a University staff member within the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs’ Immediate Office who is entrusted with the responsibility of ensuring the equitable administration of formal proceedings described in the Code of Student Conduct (Code). The IHO accomplishes this through a student-centered process that aims to promote student development and accountability. The IHO convenes the formal hearing process and determines procedural and evidentiary matters as part of their oversight of the formal process. The IHO and Center for Student Conduct (CSC) provide complementary services to the campus community in their distinct roles and through their responsibilities of resolving allegations of violations of the Code. The IHO also recruits and trains members of the campus community (faculty, students, and staff) to serve on the Committee on Student Conduct as part of the administration of the formal process.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
The IHO empowers members of the broader campus community (faculty, staff, and students) to engage with the student conduct process to promote community accountability, care, and integrity. The IHO also ensures that the Code of Student Conduct is being administered appropriately and equitably.
The Ombuds Office for Students and Postdoctoral Appointees

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
We are a confidential, impartial, independent, and informal resource for students, postdoctoral appointees, faculty, and staff. We advocate for fairness, justice, respect for differences, and reasonable solutions and seek to mitigate issues and concerns so that they may be resolved at the lowest possible level. We are one of the few campus resources where visitors may safely discuss issues without disclosure resulting in obligatory notification to the university, including issues of sexual violence and sexual harassment.

OUTCOMES
We supported the following learning outcomes and operating goals:
- Furnishing visitors with written and verbal communication tools
- Coaching visitors in conflict resolution to empower them to resolve disputes
- Clarifying policies and procedures so visitors may make informed decisions
- Facilitating resolutions between students, postdoctoral appointees, faculty, and staff
- Meeting with senior administrators to share trends and recommendations to campus climate issues

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
We collect data on the volume, general characteristics of our visitors, and detailed information on the types of issues addressed with those visitors. We maintain anonymized records of visitors for strictly data collection purposes, tracking only basic information regarding demographics and the nature of the dispute. Any records with personal identifying information are destroyed on a semesterly basis.

WHAT WE DO
We work with individuals and groups to explore and assist them in determining options to help resolve conflicts and problematic issues and bring systemic concerns to leadership’s attention for resolution. We seek to listen and understand issues while remaining neutral with respect to the facts. We assist in reframing issues and developing and helping visitors evaluate options, focusing on informal resolutions. We coach visitors to engage directly with other parties, as well as the use of formal resolution resources of the university. We also refer visitors to additional resolution resources. We assist in surfacing issues to formal resolution channels, and when appropriate, we may facilitate resolutions and conduct informal mediations. We also consult with staff and faculty who are seeking guidance in postdoc and student-related situations. Additionally, we run tailored trainings on communication and conflict-resolution skills.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
Consistent with divisional priorities, we foster mutual respect and encourage a culture of understanding, belonging, and civility. We save campus resources by assisting in the resolution of issues at the lowest possible level. We serve as a conduit for positive systemic change by raising issues to leadership others cannot or won’t discuss.

With a broad portfolio, we used multiple data collection methods. These included General Ledger, Campus Deposit System (CDS), BearBuy, Check Tracking System (CTS), UBuy, Benefits Bank, Fusion, Enterprise Risk Management Information System (ERMIS), Perceptive Content, and SalesForce. Furthermore, we worked closely with the Controller's Office and Financial Analysts to ensure validity of our data.

What We Do
Our mission is “We Serve those that Serve Students.” We embody this mission by partnering with departments to provide administrative services that benefit the division’s 41 departments, so they can spend their time providing direct service to students. As the subject matter experts (SME), Business Operations oversees the following functions for the division: Document Imaging & Mail Services, Occupational Safety, Ergonomics, Leave of Absence Work Comp, Projects, Cellular Services, Equipment Support, Space, and Facility Services (Administrative Buildings). Business Operations also serves as an internal bridge for Student Affairs units to Berkeley Regional Services (BRS), Controller’s Office, Risk Services, Business Contracts & Brand Protection, Campus Legal Services, Central Human Resources, Office of the President, Physical Plant - Campus Services, Environmental Health & Safety, Parking and Transportation, Space and Capital Resources, Fleet Services, and Real Estate Services.

As SMEs in our fields, with broad divisional oversight and sound data collection methods, we identify and infuse new thinking and techniques that are vital to reducing inefficient processes and related operating issues.
University Health Services

Program Description

As the pandemic evolved, UHS’s role in leading the Public Health response continued, via operations of COVID-19 testing and vaccination clinics, along with collaboration around campus health and safety protocols. Telehealth options for care and services remained a vital and popular choice for those seeking our services. One key initiative UHS embarked on was the transformation of mental health services for students, moving to a same-day counseling model and increasing the availability of resources to support the wide array of mental health needs.

Outcomes

- COVID-19 public health responses evolved as needs of the pandemic emerged, continuing with onsite testing and vaccination clinics, as well as prevention and case mitigation efforts.
- Medical, mental health and health promotion services with continued efforts to offer options of virtual telehealth care.
- Transformation of our mental health care model for students, increasing access and availability of mental health supports.

Data Collection Methods

In addition to having a robust, data-driven, and evidence-based quality improvement program, UHS routinely reviews utilization data in order to monitor equitable and timely access to programs and services. Student Health Insurance Plan data is closely monitored for utilization, claims experience, and cost-saving and service enhancement opportunities. UHS conducts satisfaction surveys and provides other channels for electronic and onsite feedback (e.g., advisory committees, TellTang email).

What We Do

University Health Services (UHS) is at the forefront of advancing student health and faculty and staff wellness, instituting evidence-based health practices, and keeping the UC Berkeley community on the leading edge of collegiate health trends. Our vision is to be a campus that actively cultivates better health and well-being for all — a place that can actually make those who study, live, and work here healthier! Health equity, where every person, no matter their background, has the opportunity to attain their highest level of well-being, is a vital component of everything we do. Providing access to seamless, integrated, high-quality health programs and services for students, staff, and faculty is at our core.

I am so grateful for the counselor I saw at UHS. I have really struggled to find mental health providers that are skilled in trauma-informed, gender/sexuality- and culturally-inclusive care. My counselor is skilled in these areas and has helped immensely.

What Our Work Means to the Campus

UHS provides leadership and expertise on critical health situations, including the impacts of public health crises, natural disasters, political events, and other emergent issues. Students consider health services essential to a positive student experience, and staff depend on employee health programs to support their productive engagement in the mission of the University.
Center for Educational Partnerships

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
For over thirty years, CEP has increased the number of diverse California students enrolling and succeeding in higher education by directly addressing college-going barriers typically faced by low-income, first-generation, undocumented, and historically underrepresented students. CEP directly serves over 75,000 students (including 35,000 cohort students) throughout California through partnerships with schools, community colleges, and community-based organizations. As a leader in college access, CEP also provides capacity building, practical tools, and resources to increase college-going rates.

OUTCOMES
- Improve the academic achievement of students who face significant barriers to college
- Increase the diversity of students who enroll and succeed in higher education
- Empower schools, districts, and CBOs to foster college aspirations through building a college-going culture
- Support collaborations and partner with K-14 and post-secondary colleagues
- Create tools to partner with educators, families, and communities

WHAT WE DO
CEP provides outreach and engagement with K-14 students, families, and educators to increase access to higher education. We believe no student should be denied the opportunity to pursue a college degree due to systemic, economic, or social barriers. Our twelve CEP programs provide direct service to students and families, professional development for educators and community partners, and engage with K-12 schools/districts, community colleges, and other higher education partners in systemic work to remove barriers to college access for students.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
Multiple data collection methods are used:
- Direct service providers document both the interactions with students and college success milestones they achieve and enter into their program’s data portal from where we extract key data points.
- National Student Clearinghouse
- Student surveys (ex: senior mid-year & EOY senior milestones survey)
- Faculty/staff surveys from professional development that we provide

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
CEP provides leadership, expertise, and services to increase college access and educational opportunities for California’s underrepresented minority, low-income, and first generation students. CEP advances UC Berkeley’s diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts by increasing students’ academic readiness and college preparation. This work aligns with UC’s core mission to serve the interests of California.

Central Evaluation Unit

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
The Central Evaluation Unit (CEU) reports on the completion of degree requirements. We do this by executing transfer credit review for eligibility and articulation, implementing UC and Berkeley Division regulations, and leveraging student systems to optimize the timely application of Berkeley and transfer credit in the degree audit. Our reporting tools provide a platform for college major and minor programs to verify degree progress and ultimately expedite the conferral of degrees by the Office of the Registrar.

OUTCOMES
The Central Evaluation Unit provides critical services that support:
- Preparation to transfer to Berkeley by facilitating and maintaining course articulation agreements with California Community Colleges
- Tracking of degree progress for students and advisers via Exam Results, Transfer Credit, and Academic Progress reports in CalCentral
- Automation for verifying completion of requirements for purposes of conferring degrees

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
Our primary collection method is querying the Campus Solutions models used to extract transfer course detail from transcripts, review for articulation and transferability, and post to the Berkeley transcript and Transfer Credit Report.

WHAT WE DO
The Central Evaluation Unit (CEU) serves on behalf of the faculty by evaluating and posting transfer credit and tracking completion of university, campus, college, and major requirements toward degree conferral for Berkeley undergraduates.

To accomplish this service, we facilitate the review and publication of California Community College course-to-course and course-to-requirement articulation, and the review of coursework from other higher education institutions for unit credit toward the Berkeley degree. Additionally, we coordinate efforts to upload Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, and GCE A-level exams to post to student records.

Finally, we support the undergraduate online degree audit (Academic Progress Report), which utilizes exams and transfer courses, along with Berkeley enrollment to verify completion of requirements, track degree progress, and confirm readiness for graduation.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
Our reporting tools provide comprehensive and accessible means to confirm degree progress for students. This is important to our Culture of Equity in supporting transfer students who rely on the timely posting of transfer credits, in order to verify their status as juniors and enable them to engage in advanced courses alongside those who started at Berkeley.

Through its commitment to service and transforming the student administrative experience, CSC has successfully streamlined the student service experience in-person and online. We have worked with traditional partners and other key student-serving offices to create new points of contact and handoffs.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
Data was collected through the Qless queueing system reporting feature, Salesforce reports, and daily call reports.

WHAT WE DO
Cal Student Central (CSC) is dedicated to providing efficient, student-centered, and quality service to UC Berkeley’s applicants, students, faculty, alumni, and staff. - Changes in financial circumstances did not become roadblocks to success for our students ($69 Family Contribution and $1,650 Cost of Attendance Adjustment Request appeals processed).

WHAT WE DO
Education is life-changing. Students worldwide dream of learning at Berkeley in hopes of seizing that opportunity. The Financial Aid & Scholarships Office (FASO) makes those dreams a reality by providing comprehensive financial resources and holistic student support, especially during uncertain times. Career Center

The Career Center focuses on three critical aspects of the career journey of undergraduate and graduate students specifically, career clarity — opportunities to identify career direction through activities such as individual career coaching and group workshops; career competitiveness — opportunities to enhance marketability via real-world experiences such as internships and externships; and career connections — opportunities to engage with alumni and employers, including career fairs and alumni/student networking events.

OUTCOMES
61% of undergraduates who complete two or more internships land their first full-time job within six months of graduation. This number reduces to 50% for undergraduates who have one internship and drops to a low of 34% in cases where there was no internship experience.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
Several surveys are utilized annually to better understand the needs, expectations, outcomes, and feedback from students, employers, and alumni. Event attendance tracking for workshops, career fairs, and appointments are maintained through Handshake, and surveys are collected using Qualtrics and Mentimeter, and Google Forms. Net Promoter Scores are analyzed monthly for student satisfaction of 1:1 career counseling appointments.

WHAT WE DO
What we do prepare undergraduates, graduate students, and alumni to make informed decisions about their futures by providing comprehensive resources and programs. We facilitate and develop connections between students, alumni, and employers. We provide coaching on career development, internships, employment, and graduate school, all with the goal of becoming career ready through the three Cs: Clarity, Connections, and Competitiveness.

Our goal is to cultivate a university-wide culture of career readiness, where every student engages in meaningful experiences, has a supportive professional community, and is empowered to achieve lifelong career success.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
We create a culture of collaboration across campus to support the University’s mission by creating opportunities for students to become career-ready. We stay current with market trends to provide insights about relevant opportunities for students to reach their full potential.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS

Student Legal Services

Program Description
SLS provides the following services:

- Legal Consultations and Guidance: 30-minute consultations with current students, with follow-up appointments as needed. SLS does not represent students but does help draft and review letters, legal documents, and court filings; SLS also provides referrals when needed.
- Online Resources: SLS offers info sheets and forms on legal topics most relevant to students.
- Workshops: Legal, educational sessions on various topics of interest to students.

Outcomes
After consulting with SLS, students:

- Understand the legal issues involved in their cases
- Can identify and understand their legal options, and the relative merits of those options
- Know how to navigate a problem/institution that they might not have otherwise known how to navigate
- Feel better equipped to handle similar situations in the future

Data Collection Methods
SLS uses multiple data collection methods. We conduct semiannual assessment surveys distributed to SLS clients, which include detailed learning outcomes assessment questions; the latest response rate was 22.3%. We evaluate aggregated student demographic data based on SIDs and analyze securely and confidentially with no other identifying information. We also have a confidential SLS database of clients, cases, topic areas, and frequency of consultations.

What We Do
Student Legal Services (SLS) offers students free and confidential consultations with an attorney for advice, guidance, and coaching related to their legal questions, rights, and obligations. Areas of law include landlord-tenant, small claims actions, credit issues and collections, family law, auto, and health insurance, accidents and personal injury, consumer fraud, criminal, traffic and alcohol citations, contract law, and basic estate planning matters. SLS helps students navigate difficult circumstances such as uninhabitable housing, illegal threats from landlords, serious credit problems, divorce, child custody disputes, bicycle and car collisions, injuries, harassment and fear for safety, and denials of insurance coverage.

The SLS mission is to support student retention by improving students’ ability to stay in school via high-quality counseling and assistance with their legal issues.

I went from thinking I was helpless to knowing that I had enforceable rights.

Cal 1 Card

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Cal 1 Card was designed and developed to provide a standardized and secure method for identifying valid active members of the campus community and their respective eligibility for access to applicable services, benefits, and facilities. Key campus stakeholders are regularly consulted to address evolving needs and assess emerging technologies for optimized operations, enhanced security, and an improved student experience.

OUTCOMES

In addition to executing / coordinating the yearly card production and distribution efforts for the incoming class of students in Fall 2021, Cal 1 Card office staff had to also do the same for a vast majority of the prior year’s incoming students who had not been able to obtain their cards due to the adverse impact of the centenary pandemic.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS

Multiple data collection methods were used, including queries on the CS Gold system, the student information system, and Qless reporting.

WHAT WE DO

The Cal 1 Card office provides essential identity and access management support services to the entire campus community, primarily via the production and issuance of UC Berkeley’s official campus photo identification Cal 1 Card to all eligible students, employees, and affiliates.

The Cal 1 Card is fundamental to students’ ability to effectively navigate their university experience. Through collaborative and efficient partnerships on and off-campus, the Cal 1 Card photo ID enables students’ access to applicable facilities, corresponding services, and associated resources in an effective and secure manner.

In addition to the multi-faceted benefits associated with the Cal 1 Card, the Cal 1 Card office also produces and coordinates the issuance of a separate AC Transit EasyPass Clipper Card, which affords student access to public transportation services in the East Bay.

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS

Cal 1 Card staff provide the means by which students verify their identity, affiliation, and eligibility for access to campus facilities and essential services which are fundamental to a holistic student experience (e.g. Residential Housing, Cal Dining, Recreational Sports, Library, Tang Center, Transportation, etc.).
Cal Dining

Program Description
Cal Dining operates a variety of locations, including Dining Commons, Campus Restaurants, Convenience Stores, and Catering. We strive to provide a service that is of good value and diversified to our student population. We continue to expand our flexibility in providing meals during all-day parts. We also continue to develop our plant-forward menus, our employee and student engagement, and our strategic partnership with our vendors. Cal Dining supports the basic needs initiative on campus through a comprehensive food donation program and two campus gardens.

Outcomes
Cal Dining operational outcomes include:
- Brown’s Cafe reopened with a menu focused on local foods, and it now accepts meal equivalencies so students can utilize their meal plan swipes in more locations.
- Opened a new restaurant in collaboration with The Student Union and local restaurant partner Ladle and Leaf.
- LeanPath was implemented in all dining units allowing operations to weigh and categorize all pre-consumer food waste, helping dining set waste reduction goals for next year.
- Text and Tell was relaunched in Spring of 2022, allowing us to interact with guests, resolve complaints, and gather metrics on customer satisfaction.

What We Do
Cal Dining strives to serve globally inspired, nutritious, sustainably sourced food while providing an exceptional guest experience. We serve a diverse population of students, faculty, and staff with a wide range of dietary needs. Cal Dining continues to align with Menus of Change, considering the environmental, social, and health impacts of responsible sourcing and preparation of food. Cal Dining balances providing these services with being fiscally responsible stewards of our resources. We are committed to providing solutions to food insecurity on campus and decreasing both pre-consumer and post-consumer food waste.

Data Collection Methods
Cal Dining data collection methods include analysis of CS-Gold, LeanPath, and Text and Tell data. The data collected for this report captures information from July 1, 2020 - June 30, 2021 or from the start date of project implementation.

Dining is an opportunity for learning and engagement through the many special events that provide student engagement. Cal Dining is also a source for student employment.
Cal Housing

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
Cal Housing received 15,344 housing applications and essentially had two freshman classes due to the pandemic. Public health conditions allowed us to occupancy triples though it was important that we still provide dedicated quarantine/isolation housing. We kept a three-day extended move-in process to allow for COVID-19 testing prior to move-in. We implemented Chatbot to instantly provide faster customer service answering simple housing questions with 24/7/365 chat capabilities. We brought back our in-person Off-Campus Housing Fair.

OUTCOMES
Cal Housing supported the following operational outcomes:
• Housing 8,015 undergraduate, 267 single graduate students, and 886 family apartment units.
• We removed two master lease buildings, Garden Village and Shattuck Studios, from our inventory but added Intersection, a much anticipated building donation in January.

DATA COLLECTION METHODS
Cal Housing uses analysis of StarRez, our room management, and our billing system.

WHAT WE DO

WHAT OUR WORK MEANS TO THE CAMPUS
We are important to students’ campus experience as they spend more hours in our housing rather than classrooms or libraries, most notably during their critical first year at Berkeley. Lifelong friendships, partnerships, and academic endeavors are created under our roofs.
